SPEAKERS:

Megan Crane is a Clinical Fellow at the Center on Wrongful Convictions of Youth (CWCY) at Northwestern Pritzker School of Law. Crane represents individuals who were wrongfully convicted for crimes when they were children or teenagers and supervises second and third-year law students as they co-counsel in various stages of post-conviction proceedings. Crane co-teaches a clinical course on juvenile justice, wrongful convictions, and false confessions, as well as a summer course on public interest lawyering. She is a graduate of Georgetown University and University of Michigan Law School.

Peyton Engel is an associate in Hurley, Burish & Stanton's civil litigation practice helping both businesses and individuals. In addition to civil suits, Peyton represents attorneys, doctors and other licensed professionals in disciplinary matters. Before joining the firm, Peyton worked for over 18 years in information technology with 16 years of that time spent specialized in network and information security. While in law school, Peyton interned with the Wisconsin Court of Appeals and tutored foreign law students in both Contracts and Property.

Dyke Huish obtained a Bachelors of Arts in Communications from Brigham Young University in 1986. He then earned a Master in Science in Psychology from BYU in 1990. This rare combination and diverse educational background gives him a deep understanding of how judges, juries and clients respond to the psychological pressures of criminal law. He obtained his Juris Doctorate from the University of San Diego where he was ranked at the highest levels for his work in Trial Advocacy and Appellate Presentation. Upon graduation he was admitted into the prestigious National Order of the Barristers.

Stephen Lindsay is a graduate of Guilford College in Greensboro, North Carolina where he graduated with Honors in Criminal Justice. Steve attended law school at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill where he graduated with Honors. While in law school, Steve was a member of the Holderness Moot Court and was one of the directors of the Braxton Craven National Moot Court Competition.

Steve is a Life Member of the National Association of Criminal Defense Attorneys (NACDL); and a Life Member of the Georgia Association of Criminal Defense Attorneys (GACDL). He is a member of the North Carolina Advocates for Justice and the North Carolina Bar Association. He is admitted to practice in North Carolina, in the United States District Courts for Western, Middle and Eastern Districts of North Carolina, the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, and Supreme Court of the United States.

Audrey Moorehead, serves on the Board of Directors of the State Bar of Texas as Section Representative, has her own Dallas law office and practices in the areas of Criminal Defense, Domestic Relations, Wills, Trusts and Probate. She has a Masters of Business Administration and is a graduate of Texas A&M School of Law, f/k/a Texas Wesleyan University School of Law. Audrey began her professional career in executive management with the Visiting Nurse Association of Texas in Long Term Care. She was a Summer Judicial Clerk for the Honorable Judge Jay Patterson, 101st District Court and Summer Judicial Intern for the Honorable Judge Sam A. Lindsay, Northern District. Ms. Moorehead is the former Secretary/Treasurer for the Dallas Bar Association Board of Directors and Chairman of the Dallas Bar Association Mentoring Committee. Ms. Moorehead is the former Regional Director of National Bar Association and is the former Chairman of the African American Lawyer's Section for the State Bar of Texas.

Laurie Shanks joined Albany Law School in 1989. Was previously in private practice in Phoenix, Ariz., concentrating on criminal defense and personal injury litigation; was the training director for the Maricopa County Public Defenders Office; and a judge pro tem. She teaches CLE seminars and trial advocacy workshops throughout the nation. She also serves on Judge Kaye's task force on wrongful convictions and the state bar's committee on the future of indigent defense, and she is a referee for the New York State Commission on Judicial Conduct.

Professor Shanks is a frequently quoted resource for reporters around the country. B.S., J.D., Arizona State University
